

Our next Team Event.

The Chase

The event our team will actually talk about

www.thechase.site | hej@thechase.site

Imagine...

- Sunlight. Fresh Air. Real streets. Real stakes.
- Your team chasing each other through the city using metro, buses, and quick thinking
- You're strategizing on a crowded tram, planning three moves ahead — then your opponents do something you didn't expect
- Everything changes.
- Your teammate makes a split-second call. It works. The group erupts.
- Two hours of this. Pure adrenaline. Pure collaboration. Pure excitement.

This is

The Chase

The Chase

A real-life city chase game where teams outsmart each other across the city using public transport — fully app-guided, no special venue needed.

The pressure is real – and so is what surfaces in your team.

Decision Making
under Pressure

Strategic thinking

Communication across teams

Taking Leadership

Why this hits different

Escape Rooms

Locked in.
Same puzzles.
Sit and solve.

Scavenger Hunt

Made-up stories.
Predetermined answers.
One Time use.

Team Building

Forced Fun.
No real adrenaline or stakes.
Artificial dynamics.

The Chase

No forced icebreakers. Real city. Real opponents. Real competition. Real dynamics emerge under genuine pressure and excitement.

Don't take our word for it

“Our leadership team set out to create an all-in experience and have fun together, and The Chase proved to be the perfect fit. What really stood out to me was how quickly we got caught up in the excitement of the game and how intensely we worked together to catch the running team. But also the moments during travel, when our conversations became unexpectedly personal and genuine. This activity brought us closer together, and I'd recommend it to any team looking to do the same.”

→ Sara Dietrich, Managing Director Berlin
